In the economic times we are facing and the constant increases the people you are elected to serve are being broken financially and spiritually. This needs to stop, the greed has gone too far and it's affecting people's daily lives, families and more. It's like everyone thinks there's magic money floating around in everyone's pockets. Some of you officials need to start standing for the people and not the institution. The institutions are currently failing the American people over and over. The only people that can change that starts with you and the decisions you make. Take the easy way out and flow with the institution, or take up the mantle for the people and be a change generator for the people.
