Commissioners' Public Comment Session

Commissioners held an open session to receive public comments on any issue. This agenda item was added for the Commissioners to listen to feedback only, twice each month during their regular meetings.

There were seven (7) people who provided comments in person and three (3) people who provided virtual comments. Any written comments received were added to the website for the public to view.

Summary of Public Comments

In Person:

- Speaker spoke on past attempts to hold leadership accountable such as asking Commissioner Coates to provide evidence of hate group targeting; Commissioner Patterson to release report on County employee mistreatment; and Commissioner Collins to address report of time theft involving special needs students of Commissioner Patterson; Condemns the Board's silence when pro-charter supporter disparaged volunteer first responders; social media posts by a retroactive term limits supporter inciting violence needs urgent attention for public safety.
- Speaker criticized proposed increase to the FY2026 Budget which was added without public input which was driven by two (2) Commissioners; Charles County only County not proposing budget cuts and how it will pay for its priorities without new revenue sources; speaker challenged the inconsistency of wanting amenities like land conservation and parks without accepting population growth or new development, while still benefiting from Waldorf's tax base and supports recreation or consumption tax; the second Sargeant report should be pursued through the courts; and speaker rejected claims of bitterness over the failed charter, but frustrated in persistent disrespect and double standards.
- Speaker expressed that same concerns remain unanswered specifically on the ongoing and confidential negotiations regarding water allocation to the Town of La Plata and lack of transparency and why behind closed doors; He warned against decisions being made now that could be dismissed later as the responsibility of past officials; speaker also criticized Vice President Commissioner Patterson's attendance record, stating he has only fully attended one of the last seven Board meetings, citing missed votes and absent participation in staff presentations, the speaker questioned whether Patterson should continue serving as Vice President if he cannot commit to the schedule, especially given similar attendance issues the previous fall.
- Speaker had several policy requests into the record, emphasizing that they did not expect an immediate response, only a well-considered one. First, that the Board of County Commissioners publish and promote a clear public engagement schedule for the upcoming 2026 Comprehensive Plan update. Noting that the 2016 plan involved significant public participation, the speaker asked for the same robust level of engagement and discouraged limiting public input to brief three-minute comments following presentations. Second, the speaker renewed a prior request for the formation of a citizen task force to review the Adequate Public Facilities Ordinance (APFO). They stressed that the APFO is vital for ensuring growth aligns with infrastructure capacity, promoting responsible development, and preserving livability and fiscal efficiency. Third, the speaker requested a joint public meeting between the Charles County Commissioners and the towns of Indian Head and La Plata to address water-related challenges tied to public facilities. They asked for a transparent, collaborative process where multiple options are developed, publicly reviewed, and voted on and not simply presented as predetermined solutions. Finally, the speaker called on the Commissioners to respond to potential impacts of the Virginia Department of Transportation's proposed HOT (high-occupancy toll) lanes on the Woodrow Wilson Bridge.

- Speaker addressed the conduct of Commissioner Coates during the May 6, 2025 meeting and expressed disappointment over her dismissive and hostile response to public concerns. Although Commissioner Coates was not present at the current meeting, the speaker felt compelled to call out her behavior, describing it as disgraceful and unprofessional and felt she demeaned residents which reflects the consistent pattern of behavior documented in the Sargeant report; speaker criticized the continued use of taxpayer funds to cover legal fees associated with Commissioner Coates' conduct and called on the Board to stop funding her legal defense and argued that any further legal action should be paid by Commissioner Coates personally; Speaker noted Commissioner Patterson's absences, citing public records that show he has attended only one of the last seven (7) Commissioner meetings and missed votes and closed sessions, stressing that consistent absenteeism undermines effective governance and urged the Board to reevaluate who holds the title of Commissioner Vice President, emphasizing that the role should be filled by someone who is present and engaged.
- Speaker addressed the Board to advocate for a trap-neuter-return (TNR) program for community cats prompted by recent concerns at the Capitol Clubhouse in Waldorf, where a managed colony of approximately fifteen (15) spayed and neutered cats lives, and highlighted the dedication of caretakers who maintain the area daily and keep it cleaner than most public spaces and emphasized that despite plans for a new animal shelter, without a formal TNR program, high euthanasia rates will persist.
- Speaker addressed the Board to advocate for a formalized, humane trap-neuter-return (TNR) policy. The Helper Pets organization currently performs TNR services by trapping community cats, spaying or neutering and vaccinating them, then returning them to their original locations without taxpayer expense. Despite the program's success, the speaker shared that Animal Control continues to oppose these efforts, often re-trapping already sterilized cats and taking them to the County shelter which is counterproductive and costly to taxpayers; speaker reiterated willingness to collaborate with County Leadership for policy updates.

Virtual:

- Speaker voiced strong concerns over orchestrated effort to reintroduce individual elements of the failed Charter proposal, which voters had already rejected at the ballot and expressed alarm

Regular Meeting of County Commissioners
Tuesday May 20, 2025 (Legislative Day)

that proposals such as an Inspector General and retroactive term limits were being revived with the intent of blocking specific individuals from advancing politically and narrowing the candidate pool to preferred allies; Speaker accused Commissioners Collins, Coates, and Patterson of pursuing a self-serving agenda that does not reflect the will of their constituents as well as political operatives like Greg Waring and Derek Terry for allegedly manipulating public opinion and associating with individuals who have publicly advocated violence against political opponents which is dangerous and unacceptable; Speaker addressed unresolved issues and ongoing costs related to misconduct by Commissioner Coates, including the payout for the former County Administrator, the alleged double-dipping by at least one (1) Commissioner, misuse of County credit cards, and continued hiring of outside counsel and ignores Wes Adams legal advice thereby exposing taxpayers to litigation risk; speaker denounced proposed tax increases, since public should not be forced to pay for poor leadership and mismanagement and why there remains no mechanism to remove a Commissioner for cause and demanded answers about the unreleased Sergeant report.

- Speaker expressed frustration with inconsistent Commissioner attendance during public comment sessions, noting that only one (1) Commissioner was physically present during recent budget hearings, and acknowledged that some Commissioners may have attended virtually, but emphasized that full engagement matters, especially when public participation is being criticized; Speaker referenced comments made by Commissioner Bowling in past discussions about the Charter, accusing him of now avoiding accountability after previously advocating for transparency and governance reforms and suggested that Commissioner Bowling had been active on social media the night prior, discussing County matters, implying a lack of focus or professionalism; Speaker referenced an earlier moment when Commissioners Stewart, Murphy, and Robinson were seen in a photo displaying three (3) fingers, a symbolic gesture that was not met with the same scrutiny now being applied to the current majority and reflects political double standards now that control of the Board has shifted.
- Speaker acknowledged past statements made by elected officials suggesting the Charter could be selectively adopted, keeping the beneficial parts and discarding the rest and recalled publicly expressing similar views at community events, stating that while they opposed the Charter as a whole, they supported specific components such as term limits, an ethics board, and an Inspector General; Speaker acknowledged complexity of implementing term limits, particularly whether they should be applied retroactively or begin with future elections, and suggested this is a conversation worth having and rejected personal attacks and urged community members to stay focused on collective goals.

Commissioner's Responses

Commissioner Collins:

- Apologized for the late start for public comments; Hearing testimony on the colony of cats helped broaden his understanding of the growing community cat population and the shift in terminology from “feral cats” to “community cats,” noting a preference for the more respectful framing and expressing appreciation to the speakers for elevating the issue; he acknowledged the growing presence of these cat colonies and recognized the early morning behavior patterns that make them easy to overlook and that he is committed to engage with staff to look further into the matter, with a willingness to explore potential policy and programmatic responses.

Commissioner Bowling:

- He explained that La Plata and water allocation was discussed earlier in the context of adequate public facilities (APFO) and that the County had previously asked the Town of La Plata to implement an APFO similar to the County's and that staff had been tasked with providing updates and supports holding a joint public meeting between the County Commissioners and the Town Councils of La Plata, Indian Head, and Port Tobacco to discuss mutual concerns, including infrastructure and water; 2026 Comprehensive Plan discussion at the May 5, 2025 Planning Commission meeting staff presented updates and suggested requesting a staff briefing outside of public comment to avoid using meeting time; he agreed that a fee summary for the Second Sergeant report could be easily requested and shared with the public; Regarding community cats, he welcomed continued discussion and stressed the need for a flexible policy that considers both urban and rural contexts; He noted that he attended the morning's budget meeting virtually and actively participated and that he has rarely attended virtually in his six (6) years on the board and emphasized that remote participation, when necessary, does not diminish engagement.

Commissioner Stewart:

- She addressed Commissioner attendance, noting that while virtual participation is sometimes necessary, it does not reflect a lack of engagement and emphasized that she, along with Commissioners Collins and Bowling, were present for the vast majority of meetings and actively participates whether in person or remotely; she does not support retroactive legislation, stating that this Board legislates forward, not backward and term limits applied retroactively would be inconsistent with standard legislative practice and fairness; she clarified that while the FY26 budget process was challenging, the County's responsible planning and fiscal policy allowed them to maintain services without making dramatic cuts and that not all departments received full funding, but the budget was balanced thoughtfully, and she commended the work of Fiscal and Administrative Services; she affirmed that the La Plata water negotiations, discussions are ongoing and involve legal contracts and negotiations, which cannot be public at this stage and emphasized that while much of the work is done behind the scenes, a public discussion will occur at the appropriate time; She agrees that a public hearing is not sufficient for the Comprehensive Plan, and is committed to ensuring that the revision process is genuinely public and participatory and will follow up with staff to verify that this expectation is clear; she acknowledged the presence of multiple cat colonies in the community and admitted she was unaware of the specific challenges until now and expressed interest in learning more about trap-neuter-return (TNR) practices, especially concerns about spayed/neutered cats being collected by Animal Control after return; she acknowledges the County has spent over $2.5 (2.5) million dollars related to the Sergeant Reports; . She publicly thanked Attorney Wes Adams for saving the County from potentially millions more in legal liabilities through his counsel on unrelated matters.\
