

Sandy Rooney

Career and Technical Education (CTE), Charles County Public Schools

Sandy Rooney is a dedicated Career and Technical Education (CTE) Content Specialist at Charles County Public Schools with over 24 years of experience in the field of education. With a commitment to enhancing student learning through practical experience, she specializes in overseeing work-based learning and apprenticeship programs that bridge the gap between classroom instruction and real-world applications.

In her role, Sandy collaborates with local industries, educational institutions, and community organizations to design and implement effective work-based learning opportunities that prepare students for successful careers in high-demand fields. By integrating hands-on training and theoretical knowledge, students can acquire the skills necessary to thrive in the modern workforce.

Sandy is committed to building partnerships with employers, building apprenticeships and internships, facilitating mentorship opportunities, and promoting best practices in work-based learning.

With a strong belief in the power of experiential learning, Sandy is committed to equipping the next generation of professionals with the tools they need to succeed, fostering a skilled workforce that meets the evolving needs of the community and economy.
